Protection of turtle nesting areas

About 20 giant turtles (up to 150kg) are currently nesting off Dingo Beach at APSDA. To protect the turtle nesting areas, last week, as part of an annual baiting program undertaken by the OCG Asset Managers and surrounding land owners, the Juru crew, who have been undertaking weed spraying, fencing and other land management activities on CG owned land, tried their hand at baiting for wild pigs and dogs. In what has been described by the council pest management officer, Bren Fuller, as a "highly successful baiting", the Juru crew searched for fresh pig activity within the area surrounding Dingo beach and then strategically buried 500g meat baits (with 1080 poison). Within a few days 85% of the baits had been taken. This baiting follows a successful aerial pig shoot which occurred about a month ago. *Photos: Left - Turtle tracks at Abbot Point State Development Area.
